

Camilo Morales

Candidate for Chairman of Coordination Committee

Camilo Morales is an International Business Administrator from Universidad de la Sabana, Colombia, and advanced studies in Mining, Energy and Sustainable Development Law from Universidad de Los Andes. Camilo has 9 years of experience in public, commercial and international affairs in the energy, oil and gas sector. He served as Energy, Oil and Gas Officer at Department for International Trade, United Kingdom, where he designed the strategy to increase British exports to Colombia.

Subsequently, he supervised the international affairs of the Colombian National Hydrocarbons Agency to develop a cooperation framework for the offshore oil and gas exploration and production areas. Additionally, he served as Senior Advisor to the Mayor's Office of Barranquilla, leading Barranquilla to become the first energy capital of Colombia.

Camilo brings to the table a wealth of expertise in the energy sector and international relations, embodying youthful leadership.

With a passion for energy, Camilo is eager to play a positive part in the evolution of the natural gas sector worldwide towards a sustainable future.

